Overview and Background

The project will replace the existing 14,200-gallon potable water storage tank at the Pardee Center Water Treatment Plant (WTP). The purpose of project is to remove the existing tank as it has reached its end of use. The new tank will ensure reliable potable water storage for the East Bay Municipal Utility District (EBMUD) owned Pardee Center Campus, located in Calaveras County (see Figure 1).

Project Purpose and Objectives

The existing tank has reached its end of use, with flaking of interior coating, in addition to areas of rusting. Failure of the tank would result in environmental impacts, in addition to loss of potable water storage capacity.

Project Location

The project site is located on an established gravel road near the PACT WTP, within the Pardee Center Campus (see Figure 2).

Project Characteristics

The new tank will increase the potable water storage capacity from 14,200 gallons to 20,000 gallons, slightly expanding the established environmental footprint onto the neighboring disturbed gravel area. The project conforms with the American Water Works Association requirements for potable water storage, in addition to complying with applicable California Building Codes and California Code of Regulations Title 8.

Tank features include a 3-foot x 3-foot aluminum roof hatch, with a recessed latch that can be padlocked, an exterior galvanized stairway, plus a galvanized safety railings around the top perimeter. The project also includes the installation of cathodic protection and interior forced air ventilation system.

Existing instrumentation and respective electronics will be reinstalled once the new tank is in place.

The project includes installation of a new foundation that meets current code for the anchoring of the new tank.

Permits

All work will be on EBMUD property, so no encroachment permits are necessary. Regulatory environmental permits are not required as there are no impacts to jurisdictional waters.

Pardee Center Water Treatment Plant Potable Water Tank Replacement Project

Schedule

Work is anticipated to start in February 2025. The project is expected to be completed within 10 months, dependent on the retained contractor's schedule. Work hours will be limited to weekdays with standard business hours of 7:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

EBMUD Practices and Procedures

Standard construction environmental and safety practices applicable to all EBMUD construction projects have been incorporated into the project and will be implemented accordingly. A preconstruction survey will be conducted by a qualified EBMUD Biologist prior to start-up of work to ensure there are no impacts to sensitive species or habitat.
